Englewood, CO, November 12, 2015 — Liberty Interactive Corporation (“Liberty Interactive”) (Nasdaq: QVCA, QVCB, LVNTA, LVNTB) today announced that its board has authorized management to pursue the spin-offs of two newly formed companies to be called CommerceHub, Inc. and Liberty Expedia Holdings, Inc. (“Expedia Holdings”) to holders of its Liberty Ventures Group stock (collectively, the “Spin-Offs”).

“We are pleased to announce our plan to separately spin-off CommerceHub and Expedia Holdings,” said Greg Maffei, President and CEO of Liberty Interactive. “We believe the Spin-Offs should unlock value for our Liberty Ventures shareholders in an efficient manner and increase focus on the remaining attributed assets of Liberty Ventures.”

CommerceHub, Inc. would be comprised of the CommerceHub business. Frank Poore, the founder of CommerceHub, will continue in his role as CEO. In the spin-off of CommerceHub, Inc., record holders of Series A and Series B Liberty Ventures common stock would receive shares of the corresponding series of CommerceHub, Inc. common stock for each share of Liberty Ventures common stock held.

Expedia Holdings would be comprised of, among other things, Liberty Interactive’s entire ownership interest in Expedia, Inc., as well as Liberty Interactive’s subsidiary Bodybuilding.com, LLC. In the spin-off of Expedia Holdings, record holders of Series A and Series B Liberty Ventures common stock would receive shares of the corresponding series of Expedia Holdings common stock for each share of the Liberty Ventures Group common stock held.

Liberty Interactive expects that the Expedia Holdings Series A and Series B common stock will trade under the symbols LEXEA/B, respectively, and that the CommerceHub, Inc. The applicable record dates, distribution dates and distribution ratios for the Spin-Offs will be announced at a later date. Each of the Spin-Offs is intended to be tax-free to stockholders of Liberty Ventures and will be subject to various conditions including the receipt of an opinion of tax counsel.
